Program Development Officer I
Youth Formation Division

Dear Sir Doncillo,

The Good Neighbors International Philippines, a partnered organization of the Department of Education in the creation of advocacy materials for inclusion, in learners with disabilities, youth development programs, and activities would like to share with you the very first online premiere show of the first WAVE Talk event.

As we move forward with a better perspective, our immediate next step is to put the event in the wider public to reach more youth and advocates in the discussed dimensions of social responsibility. Thus, WAVE Talk will have its online premiere show via live streaming on Facebook and Youtube on December 09, 12, and 14, 7:00 pm.

With this, we need your support to seamlessly implement the program and target its objectives which aim to empower more youth to be socially responsible; widen the program reach, and; build strong partnerships among the industries under the scope of the three dimensions- technology, the economic and environmental dimension of social responsibility. To help us with this initiative, we respectfully invite the SIDO Sorsogon to partner with us in fostering youth development and empowerment.

For your ready reference, please refer to the attached draft program of the event. Also, you may check the attached link for the successful onsite WAVE Talk highlight: WAVE TALK 2022 HIGHLIGHT

Should you have any clarifications or inquiries, your staff may coordinate directly with the Social Development Division through Gerald Q Abueva (Education and Child Protection Staff) at geraldqabueva@goodneighbors.ph. We look forward to your acceptance of this partnership. Thank you for your support of the GNIP's WAVE Talk.

OVERVIEW

Good Neighbors International Philippines (GNIP) continues its goal to “Improve the well-being of Filipinos through building a sustainable partnership to empower children, youth, and communities” focusing on Economic Development, Social Development, Sponsorship Services, and other Community Support Programs, Projects, and Advocacies.

As we look forward to the post-COVID-19 pandemic future, GNP organized a WAVE Talk event, WAVE stands for Words Amplifying Virtue of Empowerment with the theme, “Empower Through Social Responsibility”, last October 29, 2022, at Seda Vertis North Hotel, Quezon City.

The onsite event was successfully attended by different representative stakeholders from the national government, non-government organizations, youth-led organizations, private sectors, and students from GNP community development project areas.

Its goal is to spark conversation, wave connections, and empower the youth wherein all participants had the opportunity to be engaged on the most pressing issues facing their generation today and empowered them to create a wave-like action through social responsibility that will ripple a positive effect of change in the community, economy, and environment.

To empower more youth, and extend the reach of its objectives, GNP is looking forward to the formulation of the first online premiere show of the event which aims to empower more youth to be socially responsible; to widen the reach of the program, and; build strong partnerships among the industries under the scope and impact of the three dimensions- technology, the economic and environmental dimension of social responsibility.

OBJECTIVES:

1. Encourage youth to explore innovative technologies that positively impact sustainability and not emit a negative impact on our planet;
2. Empower the youth to be future entrepreneurs and contribute to the social and economic development of our country;
3. Empower the youth to take driving action and effectively fight climate change.

What is GNIP?

Good Neighbors International Philippines (GNIP) is an international, non-profit humanitarian and development organization centered on the well-being of marginalized Filipino children through child sponsorship and integrated community development programs. At present, it is operating in 11 vulnerable communities scattered in various parts of the country.

Its community development programs are geared towards the sustainable development of vulnerable communities. These programs cover various sectors that affect the well-being of children. These include Child Sponsorship, Education, Child Protection and Advocacy, Health, Water, Sanitation, Hygiene or WASH, Income Generation, Energy and Environment, Disaster Risk Reduction, and Partnership and Network Building.

Good Neighbors International is able to implement its developmental and humanitarian interventions to children and their families in the communities where it operates through partnering with various companies, organizations, and individuals who share in its vision and mission for the marginalized sector. They engage them to become donors and sponsors through local child sponsorship and fundraising campaigns. GNIP also partners with companies to carry out the latter's corporate social responsibility programs to benefit their community development areas. To help ensure the sustainability of its community development programs in the areas, GNIP also partners with the local government units and other local agencies that operate in the communities through its advocacy initiatives. Partnership with them also includes capacity building and resource mobilization.

What is WAVE Talk?

WAVE Talk event is a locally unique gathering that will unchain smart conversation, innovativeness, and inspiration. WAVE stands for Words Amplifying Virtue of Empowerment. Its goal is to spark conversation, wave connection, and empower the youth. The theme of the WAVE Talk this year is "Empower Through Social Responsibility" which will engage youth on the most pressing issues facing their generation today and empower them to create a wave-like action through social responsibility that will ripple a positive effect of change in the community, economy, and environment.

What is Online WAVE Talk?

To empower more youth, and extend the reach to the wider public and objectives, GNP is looking forward to formulating the first online premiere show of the event which aims to empower more youth to be socially responsible; to widen the reach of the program and: build strong partnerships among the industries under the scope of the three dimensions- technology, the economic and environmental dimension of social responsibility.

The Online WAVE Talk will be Livestream via Facebook and Youtube as one of the social media platforms of the organization. The event will highlight the topics of Industrialization and the Technology Revolution, Driving Action on Climate Change, and Enabling Social Entrepreneurship. Also, the online WAVE TALK event will showcase short entertainment and complimentary prizes for those who will win the incorporated quiz every episode.

Program Components

The WAVE Talk will focus on present problems such as the following:

1. Industrialization and Technology Revolution
  - Everybody has a role to play and no one is better than young people themselves as early adapters and most technology users. Yet, this hinders sustainable development and how can young people address these problems innovatively considering the impact of technology on the environment?
2. Enabling Social Entrepreneurship
  - Entrepreneurship grants young people the platform, resources, and networks to have a direct social and economic impact on our society. But how can we empower them to positions of action and decision-making in achieving a more developed and progressive country?
3. Driving Action on Climate Change
  - Climate change is one of the most significant challenges facing global society and driving action on climate change will provide young people with the latest information regarding greenhouse emissions. Thus far, how can young people today help in mitigating climate change and find ways to limit global warming, and take care of our planet?
